To the CRA Board,

This is just a short note of appreciation for the CRA decision to hold HYBRID meetings, in both open session and on ZOOM. As you know I have encountered great difficulties with ZOOM -- simply trying to get an open microphone -- that I can no longer attend under the ZOOM format. I submit that the confusions involved in trying to get an open line simply preclude my participating in CRA meetings. However, now I have an opportunity to avoid ZOOM impediments, and when the time comes on the appropriate topic I shall utilize the opportunity.

In recent months I have lost track of the status of the consultant study of the Grand Junction corridor for transit. My understanding was that the work was funded for $300,000 by a private developer and would take four months to complete. Is it possible to obtain a status report on where that effort stands today?
